Re: Request for Deferral of
FY 2003 Regulatory Fees

Dear Mr. Low:

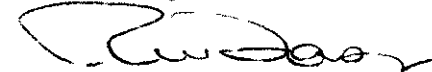

This is in response to your request for deferral of the Fiscal Year (FY) 2003 regulatory fees due for FM broadcast stations KQST and KLOD.

You assert that you have experienced extreme financial hardship and that the economy has severely impacted your business. You also state that you anticipate accounts receivable will be paid in the next sixty days. Therefore you request a sixty day deferral for payment of FY 2003 fees.

FY 2003 regulatory fees were due September 25, 2003. The Commission may waive, reduce or defer fees, on a case-by-case basis, where good cause is shown and such action would promote the public interest. A request to defer payment based on financial hardship must be supported by documentation of such hardship. 47 C.F.R. §1.1166. Although you claim "extreme" financial hardship, you have provided no documentation whatever in support of your assertion. Accordingly your request for deferral is dismissed. The FY 2003 regulatory fees are now due.

Re: Regulatory Fee Deferment

Dear Mr. Reger:

I am requesting a deferment of the regulatory fees due for KQST 102.9 FM and KLOD 100.1 FM

We have experienced extreme financial hardship and challenges. The economy has severely impacted our business. We are anticipating the account receivables owed will come in within the next 60 days..

This would be of tremendous assistance to Rocket Radio. Although we don't see our hardship disappearing over night, we feel we can pay in November 2003. We are anticipating the Rocket Radio challenges to improve.

We are requesting a 60 day extension.

Thank You.

Respectfully,

John Low, President
